Tricked Again at SNS

Sunshine Nursery School's Pre-K children set their leprechaun trap and used their "leprechaun lookers" to keep and eye out for the tricky little green guys. Once again, those sneaky leprechauns made a mess of the classrooms, ate the skittles from the trap and made a quick escape. Better luck next year Sunshine!

Dining Out at The D&R Depot

The Preschool class from Love Bugs Preschool had a wonderful time at the D&R Depot restaurant last week. Miss Jen, Miss Nancy and Miss Tammy helped the children use proper table manners, prepare a healthy snack and enjoy each other's company. Thank you D&R Depot for your hospitality.

Thank You

The D & R Depot Restaurant has changed a lot over the last 24 years. We've grown in ways that I would have never imagined. I'd like to publicly thank some of the many people that have been instrumental in helping the D & R to grow.

Our managerial staff has the hardest jobs around - they have to put up with me 7 days a week, 24 hours a day. From 3 am text messages to holiday phone calls, our managerial staff always come through for our customers.

- Tammi Conte, Depot Lead Server – Tammi oversees the restaurant servers and her job is to make sure that our guests' experiences at the D & R are top notch. Her high standards and 'lead by example' approach make her invaluable.
- Steve Boundy, Double L Rental Manager – Steve effortlessly manages our tent & rental company, Double L Rentals. Steve handles a staff of 7, a huge inventory of tents, thousands of tables & chairs, and much more. I couldn't begin to think about running Double L without Steve's expertise.
- Shaina Czudak, Barista Manager – Shaina runs our new coffee shop in LeRoy, Barista's @ 58onMain. Shaina has had to start from scratch and do a lot of 'on the job training.' Shaina's personality and commitment to customer service is helping to make Barista's very successful.
- Tammy Saeva, Rentals & Wedding Coordinator – Tammy runs our Event Management wing at the Genesee Country Village & Museum. Tammy's ability to multi-task and her sincere love for her customers has helped to make the GCV&M one of the busiest wedding and event locales around.
- Jennifer Gangi, Sean's Assistant - Jenn handles the Double L reservations, catering orders and oversees my schedule. Handling a very busy office along with filling in where needed in the restaurant and catering departments really shows how versatile and organized Jenn is.

We have several long time staff members who have been with us through the many ups and downs – Amy Fagan (24 years), Patti Rubino (13 years) and Cindy Reschke (about 10 years) form a strong core staff for the Depot to build upon. Additionally, we have some newer staff (all at least 2 years) that make up our great team – Steve Kelso, Patrick Gonzalez, Helen Chapell, Alicia Beardsley, Katelyn Wickson, Jake Swiatowcy, Peter Constantino & Julie Harper Cutcliffe.

While I do have a great managerial staff, most of our success needs to be attributed to my partners, Nancy Nickerson & Jennifer Valdes.

Everyone knows Nancy as the Depot's hostess, but Nancy was the founder of the D & R Depot and has set high standards for our staff and created an excellent business system. Regardless of the topic that we're discussing, Nancy always approaches it from the customer's point of view. If it's not good for the customer, Nancy makes sure it's not going to happen.

Jennifer Valdes is our Chef and Kitchen Director, and moonlights as my wife. Jen's high expectations, tremendous work ethic and terrific culinary skills is a huge part of what makes the D & R so successful. I also have to thank our daughters, Kara & Abby, for putting up with our non-traditional schedules and crazy outings.

Lastly, I'd like to thank all of our guests, clients and customers. Whether you're one of our large corporate catering clients or someone that visits us twice a year at the Depot, every last thing that we have is thanks to you. We are always humbled when someone chooses us over another company. We will continue to make sure that we're providing you with the best quality, best service and best products we can.

The D & R Depot dining room will be closed from Monday, March 23rd through Thursday, March 26th for redecorating. We'll have new colors, some new furniture and new art work to show off when we reopen on March 27th at 7 am. We will be able to take catering and lunch to go orders during our dining shut down.

Thank you for reading this letter, and for choosing the D & R Depot,
Sean Valdes

P.S. – Visit us for our all inclusive Sunday Special this week –
Roast Turkey Dinner, with soup or salad, real mashed potatoes & dessert!

LeRotary Notes

Our regular lunch meeting attendance was spirited yet sparse as President Randy Vink called us to order.

Our guests today were LHS Seniors Sarah Ball and Sydney Heywood. Jane Monaghan visited from the Perry Club and Selby Davis was on hand to accept a donation to Grace's Kitchen.

Announcements about our upcoming Board and Area 14 meeting were met with the usual excitement. Egg stuffing for the Annual Community Egg Hunt will be March 28th at the Moose Club at 9:00 am. We usually are done in 2-3 hours. All volunteers and anyone needing community service are welcome! David Grayson, Mary Margaret Ripley and Eric Fix were called on and paid up for missed meetings while Tracy Ford, Phil Weise and Tom McGinnis had more make-ups than they needed.

Birthdays for Mary Margaret and Tom M. were celebrated with a fine rendition of Home on the Range. When Tom was again called on to thank him for 22 years of Rotary service, he offered up that he has more grandchildren on the way and that Santa would be very busy indeed this year.

Our fining session began with Tracy Ford, now that she has four licensed drivers in the family. Rob Murray paid postage for President Randy having to deliver Rob's mail. Chris Biviano paid for violating the "sign and no show" rule. Larry Boylan, taking a break from Arizona to join us, paid up for a photo of he and the rest of the LHS Cross Country team (circa 195?) apparently prior to the advent of matching uniforms. Selby Davis provided an overview of Grace's Kitchen for our impromptu program. Please "Like" us on Facebook.

Watching For Flamingoes - April 1 and April 4

by Lynne Belluscio

As most of you know it's time to watch for the flamingoes. If you have any flamingo decoys, it's time to put them out. The flock at LeRoy House will be ready, rain or shine, or even snow and will make their appearance on April 1.

Usually the flamingoes stay outside, but this year, since it's during spring break, and folks might be looking for something to do with the kids, some of the flamingoes will be moving inside LeRoy House for a scavenger hunt. Your challenge will be to find all the flamingoes.

One rare cement flamingo is believed to have been made at the Ribstone Silo Company, owned by Donald Woodward. Another hand-painted wooden flamingo is just like the one that Jacob LeRoy brought with him in 1823 when he and Charlotte moved to LeRoy. A very rare cloth flamingo, with a zippered pocket, was used as a mail pouch on the first airmail delivery in 1928 from the Donald Woodward Airport.

A pair of rare salt and pepper shakers, made in China, are probably the set that Edward Augustus LeRoy brought back with him on

In the garden, the Ing-ham University croquet set, with flamingo wickets, will be set up. Weather permitting, folks will be able to play a game of croquet. The skittles game will be set up in the back parlor and the table top bowling game in the basement.

Without question, the most unusual piece in the collection is a genuine pink flamingo feather which fell from the last flamingo sighted in LeRoy. This feather was found in a box on the third floor at LeRoy House. It was verified as an authentic flamingo feather by well-known ornithologist Roger Tory Peterson. There will be prizes and refreshments, so plan to join us for a historic day of fun. You'll never see LeRoy House like this again - - at least again this year.

Achievements

Scott Chauncey from Pavilion and Carly Lauricella from Le Roy, SUNY Geneseo students, were among those presenting commitments to action to address global challenges at the 2015 Clinton Global Initiative University meeting at the University of Miami March 6-8.

President Clinton and Chelsea Clinton hosted the eighth annual CGI U meeting at the University of Miami, which brought together more than 1,000 innovative student leaders from around the world to present "commitments to action" in five focus areas: education, environment and climate change, peace and human rights, poverty alleviation and public health. They also heard from experts in various fields, brainstormed ideas, shared best practices and formed partnerships in developing and advancing solutions to some of the world's most pressing challenges.

The students submitted proposals to present at the meeting through Geneseo's Center for Inquiry, Discovery and Development (CIDD).

Spring is here, but clearly someone forgot to tell Mother Nature!

This is a very busy time for the Le Roy Central School District. I hope you were able to attend the wonderful production of "Shrek". This production truly showcased the talent of our students, staff, and community members. Congratulations, and thank you to the Le Roy Central School District Music Department for the commitment and hard work that goes into these outstanding productions year after year. At the Wolcott Street School, students are well into "PARP" month. "PARP" (Parents as Reading Partners) is an opportunity for the school and community to join together to celebrate and promote reading both at home and at school. This will culminate with a PARP Festival on Friday, April 10th. Hope to see you there!

The Board of Education and the Administration continue to draft the 2015-16 School Budget. Each year we work hard to navigate the many challenges set forth in this process by the Governor and the legislators to design a budget that meets the needs of our students and is fiscally responsible to our community. Over the past few years we have had to deal with GAP elimination adjustments (currently withholding over 8.3 million dollars in aid from our students), a flawed foundation aid formula (that hasn't been properly implemented since 2009), and the addition of a property tax cap formula (which is very difficult to explain at best). Still, despite these challenges we have been able to continue to develop responsible budgets that have allowed us to realign our resources to make substantive changes to our program. We have been compliant and worked hard to meet every mandate that has come our way. This year, we have not only had to deal with these complex constraints, we have had to build our entire budget blindfolded. You might wonder, what does that mean?

Each year the legislators and the Governor release school aid runs that give districts an approximate idea of how much aid we can expect for the upcoming school year. This number, along with our property tax cap calculation, combine and provide districts with an estimate of revenue for the upcoming year. As we work to develop our expenditures, we have a general idea of what programs, items, and personnel that can be included in the school budget, where we need to trim or (rarely) where we may add. This year the Governor refused to release these figures.

This has caused considerable concern in the process. In addition, the Governor has tied several reform initiatives to the state aid picture. Essentially he is holding districts hostage to his demands in exchange for state aid that is due to the public to ensure a free and appropriate education for children.

While there may be some reforms needed in the educational process, using your children's education as blackmail is not acceptable. If you wish to share your concerns about this with the Governor or legislators, I urge you to go to our website at www.leroycsd.org and click on the Advocate for Schools link.

Fortunately, we have been extremely cautious and mindful in our planning over the past several years and despite the climate at the state level, we do believe that we will be able to put forward a well-balanced and responsible school budget for the 2015-16 school year. The budget will be adopted at the April 14th school board meeting. Budget presentations will be held throughout the community beginning in April and the Budget Hearing will be held May 12, 2015 at Memorial Auditorium. If you like more information or would like to schedule a budget presentation, please feel free to contact me at 768-8133.
