LeRoy Among Four New York Communities Advance In $10 Million America's Best Communities Competition

Four New York communities -- including three in the greater Rochester and surrounding area -- are celebrating their first round of success in the America's Best Communities competition, a $10 million initiative to stimulate economic revitalization in small towns and cities. Webster, LeRoy and Livingston County, plus Norwich in Central N.Y., are moving ahead in the competition. Each will receive $50,000 to develop comprehensive strategies to accelerate the revival of their local economies and improve the quality of life in their communities.

Frontier Communications, DISH Network, CoBank and The Weather Channel -- the competition's sponsors -- today announced that Webster, LeRoy, Livingston County and Norwich have advanced into the quarterfinals of this innovative competition. They are among the 50 quarterfinalist communities that now have six months to complete their revitalization plans and compete for up to an additional $3 million to bring their ideas to life.

In the months ahead, the communities will partner with a major corporation that will provide guidance and support throughout the next stage of the competition. The America's Best Communities Adopt-a-Community Program has brought together 50 distinguished companies from across the U.S. to support the quarterfinalist communities. Each corporation will be paired with a community to serve as their strategic mentor, while also contributing $15,000 of the $50,000 in prize money. These corporate partners will forge relationships with local leaders and focus their efforts on successful implementation of the innovative business plans.

"It gives me great pleasure to announce Livingston County and LeRoy as two community areas that have pulled together their talent and first-class ideas and are now moving forward in the competition," said Bob Smith, Area General Manager of Frontier's Rochester West operations. "I can speak from personal experience as to the caliber of the leadership, the resilience and strength of the communities, and the overall commitment they have toward enhancing, growing, and setting the bar high."

Julie Marshall, Livingston County Director of Economic Development stated, "We are pleased to be selected in the America's Best Communities competition. The community revitalization plan that we will develop with the financial support from America's Best Communities will be designed to generate sustained economic momentum that will further strengthen Livingston County for many years."

Shelley Stein, County Legislator for LeRoy, said: "The community of LeRoy and Bergen are so excited to learn that we are one of America's Best Communities! Our application was a shared effort of the Town Supervisor Steve Barbeau and Director of the Jell-O Museum and the LeRoy Historical Society Lynne Belluscio. All of us are eager to share our story of agrarian roots and our ability to create local/regional commerce steeped in strong entrepreneurial tradition in the community. We look forward to meeting with our strategic mentor and continuing this exciting opportunity for LeRoy to attract more attention to our incredible work ethic, ability to collaborate and strong leadership capacity. We sincerely thank Frontier, Dish Network, CoBANK and The Weather Channel for assisting rural communities reach our full potential."

Sharing comments on LeRoy making it to the quarterfinals, Ms. Belluscio stated: "This is great news! LeRoy is extremely proud to be included in this national search for America's Best Community. Rural communities are great places to live and raise families. This is where neighbors help neighbors, and the true American spirit is fostered. It is where American entrepreneurs can thrive with proper planning and economic development. It takes a team of dedicated people to make it happen -- and LeRoy has that team -- now we hope that this kind of economic investment and technical support will propel this community into the next generation."

As the newly appointed Area General Manager of Frontier's Rochester East operations, Bill Carpenter said, "I am very excited to have a town in my area of responsibility move forward in the competition. Webster has demonstrated that it has the inspiration and dedication to generate ideas that will reinvigorate the community. It's this type of local engagement that attracted me to Frontier, and I am very proud to work with Webster as the community moves to the next round of competition."

Speaking on behalf of Webster, Matt Chatfield, Executive Director of the Webster Community Coalition for Economic Development, noted: "The Webster community is grateful to receive this national recognition for the long-standing efforts of its political, civic and business leadership to make Webster a community of choice in Upstate New York. We are also excited about the prospect of working with our corporate partner to develop a unique, sustainable and achievable business growth plan that will propel our community forward for the foreseeable future."

After launching in September 2014, the America's Best Communities competition successfully attracted entries from 138 applicant teams, representing 347 communities across the country. All 138 applications were reviewed by a panel of independent expert judges who selected the 50 winning communities based upon an objective set of criteria.

America's Best Communities is a multi-stage, three-year competition that will provide $4 million in seed money and other support to assist communities as they develop new economic growth strategies. The top three communities -- those with the most innovative proposals being effectively implemented -- will share a total of $6 million in prize money. The winning community will be awarded $3 million, with $2 million for second place and $1 million for third.

"As the largest telecommunications company focused on rural America, we recognize the economic impact that strategic investments often have on the revitalization of small towns and rural cities," Frontier Communications Executive Chairman Maggie Wilderotter said. "America's Best Communities has already inspired new collaboration among local leaders across New York, and it's just getting started. The innovative ideas the competition is investing in have the potential to become roadmaps to growth for communities across the U.S."

LeRotary Notes

"Blustery" would be an apt description outdoors as President Randy rang the Rotary bell to call our weekly meeting to order. Our guest today was Christi Lotempio. Randy recognized Gary Churchill, just in case he was there.

Repeat announcements were regarding The Graze-to-Raise/75th Anniversary and Friday morning make-up meeting. Tim Moag has been pretty busy lately and paid for his missed meetings. The following all had great make-ups. Bob Bennett, Lynn Freeman, Christine Gephardt, and Scott McCumiskey. This helps to reinforce that our attendance requirements aren't nearly as strict as they once were. Jerry McCullough had an on-line make-up, the content of which drew boos from fellow members and a fine from the President.

The fining session got off to an interesting start with Christine Gephardt explaining the psychological benefits of chickens. Bob Carlsen's 2-cent question cost him as did Erik Fix being unclear about how many alpha-bits comprise Japanese writings (3). Tony Gugino paid for having to go back to Florida while Anil Sawhney found what money is made of. Sam Vagg must've thought Randy was just bugging her and Scott McCumiskey was absolutely batty about his fine.

Mary Young had some help from the gallery with her million dollar question and paid anyway. Bob Bennett presided over our Club Assembly where we reviewed the vast amounts of good Rotary does each and every year in our community. We invest a lot of time and energy in our Appliance Raffle, Graze-to-Raise, Pancake Breakfasts, Spaghetti Dinners, Rent-A-Rotarian and Super Bowl TV Raffle.

We maintain a strong presence at the Oatka Festival through the Hot Dog Stand and Beat-the-Bucket and by sponsoring the Petting Zoo. All these efforts go right back to our community through donations to many worthy causes. More about that right here in a future LeRotary Notes... stay tuned. Please check us out and "Like" us on Facebook.

Olmsted Memorial Scholarship

The scholarship is being made available by the Olmsted family in memory of Warren and Maria Olmsted, longtime members of the First Presbyterian Church. Maria Olmsted, who passed away in 1992 at the age of 95, had a lifelong love of learning. She always lamented the fact that she was never able to attend college herself, and Mrs. Olmsted made certain that her own three children received a higher education. This scholarship will assist a young resident as she/he pursues a similar dream.

Requirements:

- * Active in and contribute to the community
- * Are good students
- * Are graduating seniors at any community high school or home schooled
- * Proof of acceptance to an accredited four-year college for the 2014-2015 school year

The Maria and Warren Olmsted Scholarship stresses the idea of excellence and community service. The criteria used to choose the recipient will be based on the person's "significant contribution to community service".

Shirley Garner - The Leader Of The Band

by Lynne Belluscio

Shirley Garner's (Kinsella) white satin majorette uniform with gold trim has been hanging on the back of the library door since July 2013 and I thought it would be appropriate to put it in the new 2015 exhibit at LeRoy House. We also have the hat and the silver baton. It was brought to the Historical Society after Shirley died. She had told me all about the uniform and I was very interested in preserving the uniform, but more importantly, her story.

When her niece brought the uniform in, pinned to the hanger, written on yellow paper was Shirley's story ... In high school she was a very talented baton twirler and when she tried out for the LeRoy High School Band as the majorette, she outperformed all the other girls. As she said in the note, she had taught most of them how to twirl a baton. She was selected to be the majorette, but due to - - as she puts it - - a "class" action of the school officials, she was told that whoever was leading the band had to buy their own uniform. She always believed that the school officials knew that her family didn't have the money to buy the uniform, and in their own way, were going to prevent her from being the majorette.

Sylvia believed that there was some girl from one of the rich families that wanted to be majorette. "My mother hit the roof," Shirley wrote. So she sold eggs, chickens, canned fruit, and anything else they could do without. And when they had the money, her mother took her to Rochester to Royal Uniform - - because the school insisted that Sylvia could not have a "hand-made" uniform. Her mother had made all of her other twirling uniforms, but that was not good enough. So with her store bought uniform and boots, and hat, Sylvia led the band. But as she wrote, even in the school yearbook, they never gave her credit for being the band leader.

In the photograph of the band standing on the front steps of the library, it is clear that Sylvia is alone in front of the band. She is leading the band as the majorette - but the caption lists two girls in the front row. Sylvia always felt slighted. She wrote, "I'm eighty and it still hurts!"

When Sylvia graduated, she was too young to go into nursing school, so she remained in high school for another year and she continued to lead the band. She and her mother were afraid that the school would insist that they buy a new uniform, so her mother turned the skirt around and added the feathers on the bottom so "they couldn't say I was wearing some old thing."

Shirley went on to nursing school at St. Jerome's in Batavia and was a member of the Cadet Nursing Corps. She was a surgical nurse at Genesee Memorial Hospital and then went to Strong Hospital in Rochester where she was a head nurse on X3 for several years. After some time away, she returned to Rochester and worked at the Cancer Center at the University of Rochester.

So when you come to see the new exhibit at LeRoy House, make sure you stop to see the white satin majorette uniform. And think of young Shirley Garner, a girl who in spite of the odds, led the band.

The LeRoy House will open for 2015 on weekends beginning on May 3. During the summer the house will also be open during the week. If you haven't visited LeRoy House lately, plan to stop by this summer. Or plan to visit during the Oatka Festival.

Uniform after the skirt was changed and feather edge added.

LeRoy Little League Opens Its 63rd Year Of Play

It was a chilly morning, but the sun was shining and the players were eager to start as the LeRoy Little League Baseball opening day was Saturday, April 25. A very nice parade from the American Legion to the Little League Field began the day. This was followed by a tremendous ceremony which included trophy presentations from 2014 to the Tigers (Historical Cup), the Indians (Scanlan Cup), and honoring the 9/10 and 11/12 year old all-star teams who both won District 3 titles last year. The ceremony was capped off as the season was dedicated to Frank Bordonaro, a coach who passed away unexpectedly last July. Members of his family and the Genesee County Sheriff's Department made it an extra special day! So with the familiar words of Coach B, "Be Ready Out There!" announced to the crowd, it was time to Play Ball in 2015!

Twins 1 Red Sox 0

Opening day for the 2015 Little League season was kicked off in style with an epic battle between the Twins and Red Sox. The pitching for both teams was as crisp as the early morning spring air. Colin McCulley started out on the mound for the Twins. He pitched well, striking out eight batters and walking two in 3 innings of work. Ethan Beswick came in and kept the shut out intact. He worked hard on the mound getting out of a couple of bases loaded situations. Beswick ended up with eight k's while walking three. Aiding the Twins pitchers was their catcher, Cole Rauscher. He was outstanding behind the plate.

Andrew Loftus also put in a strong pitching performance for the Red Sox. He struck out 10 batters and only gave up one walk.

With such stellar pitching the hits didn't come easy. The Red Sox could only come up with four hits. They were all singles off the bats of Johnny Panepento, Cole Sullivan, Grant Gilligan and Andrew Loftus.

The Twins could only muster up two hits, but boy were they timely. Colin McCulley led off the fourth with a base hit to left field. Then Joey Brennan delivered a clutch hit to right field that sent McCulley from first to third. Next up Ethan Beswick. He picked up the only RBI of the game by cashing in McCulley on a fielders choice.

White Sox 3 Indians 0

The Indians and Whitesox started off the season with a great game which was dominated by excellent pitching by both clubs. Ben LaBombard started on the mound for the Indians and struck out 3 out of the first 4 Whitesox batters. The Whitesox starting pitcher Ryan Friend responded with striking out the side in the first inning. In the second inning, the Whitesox were able to squeeze in a run. Pitchers from both clubs continued to keep base runners at bay until the fifth inning when Bryce Lathan of the Whitesox ripped a single up the middle that scored Kenny Saunders who had reached on a walk. The Whitesox added another run in the 6th to make the score 3-0. Ryan Friend of the Whitesox pitched a no hitter going all 6 innings striking out 18 and allowing only 1 walk.

Ben LaBombard pitched 4 2/3 innings striking out 9 and walking 2. Shawn Morabito came in on relief pitching for the final 1 1/3 innings striking out 4 and walking 1. The Whitesox hitting was lead by Ryan Friend who collected 2 singles. Bryce Lathan also had 1 hit and 1 RBI. Kenny Saunders added 1 single and scored a run, Jack Duyssen added a single and scored a run and Mike Buccina added a run as well.

Tigers 4 Yankees 2

Game 3 of Opening Day began with a text book bunt by Ryan Shirley (his first LL hit) and singles by Zach Baker and Cody Lytle to load the bases with no outs. Winning pitcher Giavanni Caccamise (1-0) proceeded to strike out the side to preserve a 0-0 tie. In the bottom of the first the Tigers took an early 2-0 lead behind a single by G. Caccamise and fundamental base running by the rest of the Tigers. The Yankees tied the score in third inning behind the first home run of the 2015 season hit to the opposite field by Zach Baker and a hard hit ball by Cody Lytle. The next two and a half innings witnessed a classic pitchers' duel that included 12 combined strike outs by both pitchers. On to the bottom of the fifth which began with a 6 pitch walk engineered by Charlotte Blake who eventually scored the winning run on a RBI by Giavanni Caccamise. The Tigers entered the top of the 6th leading 4-2. Aaron Leone of the Yankees doubled with one out to bring the tying run to the plate, however Giavanni Caccamise struck out the next two to preserve the win.

Cody Lytle dazzled on the mound by striking out 15 batters. Zach Baker showed he will be a force to be reckoned with at the plate this year going 3-3 with a single, double and home run. Cody Lytle added 2 singles. Ryan Higgins had a single, while and Aaron Leone added a double for the Yankees.

Giavanni Caccamise recorded 14 strike outs. Gianni Ferrara added a single and run scored. Cam Greene also scored and was a defensive stalwart behind the plate.

A's 5 Orioles 2

The final game of the Opening Day Quadruple Header featured two expansion teams as the Athletics took on the Orioles.

The A's struck quick in the bottom of the 1st. Chase Bordonaro led off with a sharp single and quickly stole 2nd and 3rd. After a Brady Fix walk, Bordonaro would score on a wild pitch that moved Fix to 3rd. Jake Marcello proved to be a tough out fouling off 5 straight pitches before a wild pitch would allow Fix to score making it 2-0 A's after one.

The score would remain 2-0 until the top of the third when the A's would strike again. Following a triple to the gap, Bordonaro would score again on a single by Fix. Aidan Robinson would reach on an error and Fix would score on another wild pitch to extend the A's lead to 4-0.

The scrappy O's would come back in the top of the fourth when a single by Cory Wallace would score pitcher Alex Panepento, who had reached base on a single to left making the score 4-1. The O's would add another run in the bottom of the 5th as the Strollo brothers would team up with a pair of singles allowing younger brother Drew to score on an RBI by Tyler. Panepento would double moving Drew to third before the A's escaped with a fine play by Shortstop Bordonaro.

The A's added an insurance run in the 5th when Brady Fix would score on a Luke Rider single to make it 5-2. That score would hold up as the A's managed their first win of the season.

A's pitcher Aidan Robinson would throw a complete game 7 hitter, striking out 11. Panepento had a fine outing for the O's allowing just 5 hits while striking out 10. Adam Risewick pitched the last two outs for the O's allowing one hit with one strikeout.

Chase Bordonaro went 2 for 3 with two runs and Brady Fix went 2 for 2 with a walk and three runs for the A's. Luke Rider pitched in with an RBI single.

For the O's, Panepento would go 3 for 3 with a run scored. Drew Strollo, with his first LL hit (1 for 2 with a run), Tyler Strollo (1 for 2 with an RBI), Finn Shelby and Cory Wallace all had hits for the O's.

Achievements

Genesee Community College is pleased to recognize three adult students who have earned the Rochester Area Colleges Continuing Education (RACCE) Award, which recognizes adult students who successfully balance their college studies with other responsibilities. Constance Eadie, Bernadette Penszyk and Candice Murphy were honored at the RACCE banquet in Rochester on April 22, 2015.

Connie Eadie, 48, was apprehensive when she started at GCC two years ago. She had dropped out of high school 28 years prior and, now a mother and grandmother, worried she wouldn't fit in. "What I found was that I was accepted and I made some wonderful, amazing, life-long friends...of all ages!!" Connie, of Le Roy, is pursuing a Paralegal Studies degree and revitalized the Paralegal Club. She earned a Leadership Certificate, became an orientation leader, was named Student of the Month in March 2015 and has maintained excellent grades throughout, earning President's List honors every semester. She is no longer afraid about starting a new career because she believes GCC has given her the confidence and skills that she has something to offer. After graduation this May she hopes to work in a family law office, "somewhere that I feel I can really make a difference helping people."

Bernadette Penszyk returned to GCC in fall 2014, enrolling in the new Food Processing Technology degree program. She became interested in the program while working at Alpina Foods, and though she was laid off, she plans to continue toward earning an FPT degree in 2016. It won't be her first degree from the College. In 1999, she graduated from the Computer Repair and Electrical Technology program and worked in these arenas for years. In between running a seasonal rental business and being a school bus driver for Alexander Central Schools, Bernadette returned to GCC to try the Occupational Therapy Assistant program, Web Design, and most recently FPT. She has maintained a strong desire to learn, and is a true example of someone taking advantage of the many opportunities GCC has to offer.

When Candice Murphy walked into GCC's Lima Campus Center in fall 2013, she was so anxious she thought she might melt. The welcoming staff eased her anxiety and Candice enrolled full time, making the President's List. She did this while providing 24 hour care for a veteran, children and a home. Her life has undergone tremendous change since that first semester. She took on a new job, a new home, raising children alone, and a mother with health concerns. She earned Dean's List honors her second and third semesters and continues to do it all, fast approaching her degree in Human Services.

RACCE seeks to recognize adults who have been especially successful at balancing college study with other adult responsibilities and the winners are selected under the following criteria:

Cory Loomis of Caledonia will receive his masters degree in Public Policy on May 16th. From the University of Albany Rockefeller College of public Affairs &

Policy. Cory is the son of proud parents Gary and Linda Loomis.

Steven Farnholz '18 of LeRoy, NY 14482 has been named to the Elmira College Dean's List for Term II, 2015. Full-time students who achieve a grade point average of 3.600 or higher at the end of any Term I or Term II are placed on the Dean's List at the college.

Jacquelyn Carson of Le Roy, NY, was one of 23 students inducted into SUNY Oneonta's Edward K. Griesmer chapter of National Residence Hall Honorary, a branch of the National Association of Colleges and University Residence Halls, on April 12.
