2nd Graders Get Tech Savvy at WSS

Creativity, collaboration, enthusiasm and hard work abound as 2nd grade students explore a variety of tech tools to boost their learning experiences! Students have had the opportunity to use Google Apps for Education (GAFE) to create informative slideshows on Google Slides or improve their writing with Google Docs. Sharing documents with one another and using the comment feature within GAFE have helped with feedback and making improvements.

All this great work has been made possible by using laptops or desktops within the classroom. They've even had a few brave students share a slideshow during they're first Parent University session earlier in the year. Many of the 2nd grade classrooms have also tried using an iPod Mini as a way to improve reading fluency, word recognition and love for reading. By connecting with the Genesee Valley Educational Partnership Media Library Services, teachers are able to loan iPod Minis which have a digital re-coding of a variety of books. The 2nd grade students enjoy plugging in their headphones to listen to a book of their choice. These younger readers and writers are quickly becoming adept with using a variety of tech tools.

LeRotary Notes

President Tony rang the bell to start the February 3rd meeting of the Rotary Club of Le Roy. Following the Pledge, Prayer and Four Way Test; announcements included the following: Big Game TV Raffle - Saturday 2/6, Graze to Raise Committee Meeting - Monday 2/8, Le Roy Historical Society Dinner Auction - Saturday 3/12 and Rotary Leadership Institute - Saturday 3/19.

Members cited for missed meetings were: Chris Biviano, Jim Ellison and Mary Margaret Ripley.

Fines included: Bruce Baker for a recent trip, Lynne Belluscio and Tom Cox for Rotary Anniversaries, Martha Bailey for a business trip and Christine Gephart for some fun at the Harlem Wizards game. Participating in (and paying for) some Super Bowl Trivia were: Larry Boylan, Ben Deragon, Bob Carlsen, Kim Cox, Lauren Humphrey, Carol Wolfe and Scott McCumiskey.

May 2011. She has since moved to her present location on 7770 East Main Rd. on the former Mercy Grove property. She prides herself in the Bridal Experience where brides work one on one with a professional stylist. Brides have their own area solely for her friends and family, creating an intimate experience. She offers High End European Designers, Organic Spray Tanning and a Makeup Artist on site so that brides can be taken care of under one roof. She plans to continue expanding wedding services to complete the ultimate Destination Bridal Experience. We enjoyed hearing about Stella's business and wish her continued success in the future.

Youth Hockey

The Batavia Ramparts Pee Wee A Team met up with the Perinton Blades early on Saturday, February 6th at the Paul Lewis Arena in downtown Rochester. In a penalty-heavy first period for the Ramparts, Perinton netted their only goal of the game. In the last minute of the first period Landin Pizzi of Batavia shot to Max Scott, also of Batavia, for the Ramparts' first goal of the game. Within a few seconds Pizzi netted the Ramparts 2nd goal, unassisted. The 2nd period was scoreless, while the Ramparts continued to be on the wrong side of the Refs. In the 3rd period LeRoys' Adam Risewick grabbed a rebound and shot to goal to bring the score to 3-1 Ramparts. End score: LeRoy 3 - Perinton 1.

The Pee Wee A Team had a few hours rest before gliding onto their home ice against the Monroe County Youth Hockey Lakeshore Eagles. This proved to be a heated battle for the duration of the game which ended in a 1-1 tie. Andrew Kasmarek of Batavia netted the only goal for the Ramparts. The Defense - Shawn Morabito of LeRoy, Brian Valyear, Carter Augello, and Carter Wasilewski held strong throughout the rough and rowdy game!

On Sunday, the Pee Wee A team traveled to Canandaigua to take on the Knights. It was a slow and scoreless 1st period. Goalie Jenna Soniesko held strong to fend of many shots on goal throughout the game. Max Scott of Batavia netted a goal in the 2nd period followed by a late 3rd period goal by defenseman Carter Augello of Elba, unassisted. The final score was Ramparts 2 - Knights 0.

The Batavia Ramparts Squirt A Team hosted the undefeated Livingston County Blues out of Geneseo Saturday morning. Geneseo decidedly owned the first period resulting in a 2-0 lead for the visiting team. Geneseo scored again in the 2nd period but this one was quickly answered by a Ramparts group-effort goal set up by a back check from Will Escherberger of LeRoy. Justin Valyear led the defense to hold the Blues steady at 3 while the Ramparts skated off with a 3-1 loss for their final home game of the season.

Chase Cummings of LeRoy and Noah Hudson of Pavilion along with the rest of the Batavia Ramparts Squirt Tier III team participated in the Empire Games in Lake Placid, NY over the weekend and took home the Bronze trophy!

The Batavia Ramparts organization as a whole officially has four #1 seeds in the NYSAHA tournament in March!

The weekend of February 13/14 is the last regular season play for the Batavia Ramparts! Stay tuned for results of those games and upcoming play-off and tournament results!

Superintendent's Column

by Kim Cox,
LCSD Superintendent of Schools

Even though the Groundhog did not see his shadow, the winter cold and snow is apparently returning for bit. Next week our students will be on Winter Break. By all accounts it is proving to be an opportunity to get in those fun winter activities at least once more before spring returns. Enjoy!

Another activity we hope you all enjoy is snuggling down with a good book with your children. This past month we have been celebrating Parents As Reading Partners (PARP).

Do you know the benefits of reading with and to your child? Consider just a few.

- Reading to your children makes you bond with them, and this gives them a sense of intimacy and well-being.
- The intimacy of reading to your children is such a pleasurable experience that they will have a positive attitude towards reading when they grow up.
- It calms your children, especially when they are fretful and restless.

- It promotes increased communication between you and your children.

- Children who are exposed to language by hearing words that are read to them and in conversation, tend to do well in school.

- Your children learn the basics of reading a book; that words represent sounds and concepts, words are read from left to right, and stories continue when you flip the page.

- Reading promotes a longer attention span, which is an important skill for your children to be able to concentrate.

- Reading to children builds listening and imagination skills.

- Your children discover an expanding chain of knowledge. Their interest in cars, for example, will expand to their interest in trucks, and other transportation like planes and rockets, and soon they will be reading about outer space, science and technology, and beyond.

- Books teach your children thinking skills. When you read to your children, they learn to understand cause and effect, to exercise logic, as well as think in abstract terms. They learn the consequences of actions, and the basics of what is right and wrong.

- Your children learn early that reading is fun and not a chore. When your children grow up, you will not be stressed about getting them to read, as reading has become a pleasurable habit.

Wow, this one amazing activity can produce so much good!

The week of February 22nd wraps up PARP month. The Wolcott Street School will celebrate with a Book Fair and the annual PARP Festival, which will be held on Friday, February 26th. Please plan on joining the fun and celebrating the joy of reading.

In addition, our Community Education Programs will begin February 24th. There is a great lineup for this session ranging from Holistic Wellness classes, to Yoga, to Greeting Card Design. You deserve to take a little time for yourself and try something new. For more information contact the Jr.-Sr. High Office at 585-768-8131 or online at www.leroycsd.org. # Route 63 Through LeRoy??

by Lynne Belluscio

A while ago, someone asked if the Historical Society had a photograph of the side entrance to the Wiss. I finally found the photo buried on top of my desk. It shows the intersection at Lake Street and Main Street with a traffic light in the middle of the road. But what caught my attention was the Route 63 sign on the corner. Shouldn't that be a Route 19 sign? Well a quick trip to the Internet verified, that at one time, Route 19 was Route 63. It was designated Route 19 in 1939. But the concept of numbering roads is an interesting story - - at a bit confusing.

With the invention of the automobile and the popularity of "motoring" it became increasingly evident that villages and towns, who maintained roads, needed help. When the Automobile Association of America was organized in 1902, it's primary focus was road conditions.

In 1908, the New York State legislature created a statewide system to oversee the major roads. (Percy Hooker from LeRoy, whose home was in the building now known as the Creekside, was the first Highway Commissioner.) Also in 1908, the New York state legislature created 37 "legislative routes", although they were not given numbers. (Both Route 19 and Route 5 were legislative routes.) Never the less, it was still an adventure traveling from town to town, city to city, or across the country. Getting lost in the middle of "no where" was a serious problem.

Road maps were few and far between and often wrong. Attempts were made to establish "trails." These trails were marked with symbols or colors - - sometimes nothing more than a slash of paint on a telephone pole. Trails were named. In New York, what was to become Route 5, was called the Yellowstone Trail and was part of a national trail that led from Boston to Seattle. The Dixie Overland Highway led from Savannah, Georgia, to San Diego. The Old Spanish Trail led from St. Augustine, Florida to San Diego. The Theodore International Highway went from Portland, Maine, to Portland Oregon, through portions of Canada. The Victory Trail led from New York City to Baltimore and then to San Francisco. The Lincoln Trail led from New York City to San Francisco. Many of the trails had associations that promoted and marked the highways. (Very much like snowmobile trails today.) Never the less, the trails were poorly marked, and caused a lot of confusion.

The federal government stepped in to solve some of the issues in 1916, establishing The Federal-aid Highway Program. Meetings and hearings were held but not much was done. In December 1924, Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover organized the first national conference on street and highway safety. One of their recommendations was to standardize signs throughout the county. Unfortunately this idea was met with resistance, especially from the trail associations. They were reluctant to turn over control of the trails to the government. In addition, some states opposed the federal regulations, stating that it was in violation of states rights. They didn't want the federal government taking over state highways.

I found it interesting that in 1922 a group of men suggested that the shapes of signs should be standardized. They suggested that stop signs should be octagonal. Round signs were for warning signs at railroad crossings. Diamond shaped signs were for "slow" warnings. Square signs were to caution or "attention" messages and rectangular signs were for directional and regulatory information.

New York State started numbering their roads in 1924. I am assuming that was when Route 5 and Route 63 through LeRoy were designated. (Wisconsin was the first state to adopt highway numbers in 1917.) But like other New York State regulations, the rules often changed. I can't help but wonder how anyone knew where they were going. And I wonder who had the contract for making all the signs - - - and I wonder who was hired to change all the signs.) Route 63 through LeRoy was changed to Route 19 in 1939.

Route 19, today is the longest state highway in the region and the only road that connects the Pennsylvania state line with Lake Ontario, except for Route 14. Route 19 does not serve any metropolitan area and is predominately a two-lane rural road. It passes through Willing, Wellsville, Belmont, Angelica, Belfast, Caneadea, Hume, Pike, Gainsville, Warsaw, Pavilion, LeRoy, Bergen, Brockport, Clarkson and Hamlin, and the counties of Allegany, Wyoming, Genesee, and Monroe for a total of 108.62 miles.

Police Report

02/05/2016 - 26 year old William J. Hixenbaugh of LeRoy was arrested on February 5, 2015 by the LeRoy Police Department, and charged with one count of Harassment in the Second Degree, a Violation.

Hixenbaugh was arrested after allegedly being involved in a physical dispute in the Village at 27 East Main St.

Hixenbaugh was arraigned in the Town of LeRoy Court by the Hon. Michael Welsh and was released on his own recognizance. He is to return back to the LeRoy Town Court on March 7, 2016 at 1:00 P.M.

02/06/2016 - 36 year old Adrian P. Morris of South Street, LeRoy, was arrested by the LeRoy Police Department on February 5, 2016, and charged with the following, Driving While Intoxicated 2nd Offense, a Class E Felony, Driving While Intoxicated while having a BAC of .08% or more 2nd Offense, a Class E Felony, and Inadequate headlights, a violation.

Morris was arrested following a traffic stop for allegedly not having any headlights on while traveling on West Main Street in the Village. After a brief investigation Morris was allegedly found to be intoxicated.

Morris was arraigned in the Town of LeRoy Court by the Hon. Michael Welsh. Morris was released under supervision of Genesee Justice. Morris is to appear back in court on March 7, 2016 at 1:00 P.M.

02/08/2016 - 28 year old Elizabeth A. Wortman of Lake Street, LeRoy, was arrested by the LeRoy Police Department on February 8, 2016, and charged with the following, Driving While Intoxicated, a Class A Misdemeanor, Driving While Intoxicated while having a BAC of .08% or more, a Class A Misdemeanor, and Drivers View Obstructed, a violation.

Wortman was arrested following a traffic stop after a witness called in a vehicle operating erratically on Lake Street Road. Patrols observed the vehicle on Lake Street in the Village and initiated a traffic stop on Lake Street for allegedly having drivers view obstructed. After a brief investigation Wortman was allegedly found to be intoxicated.

Wortman was issued appearance tickets for the charges. Wortman is to appear in the LeRoy Town Court on March 21, 2016 at 1:00 P.M.
